MONTE MC GREGOR, N. Y., July 27.—
Gen. Grant's book says: "Gen. Grant did not help upon his publications for his family he had twenty or thirty large business ledgers filled with data. These books were kept by his military secretary during the war, and contain in full his dispatches and writings, and also the day-by-day operations."
One letter, which I have obtained for the book, and which has not as yet been seen by a newspaper man, is one of the manuscript copies of the letter of terms which he wrote to Gen. Lee at Appomattox on April 9, 1865. It was a long and detailed document, and will whet the appetite of any fast in history.

The precious document is in a glass case and is safe in the reporter's hands. One of the most important facts contained in it is that we will allow the widow of Gen.
Badeau states in his history on after thoughts of Grant, and written between the lines there are several alterations in the text, but the part relating to the sun arms was unchanged.

THE OLD BANNER.

FORGE IN LAFAYETTE, O. J., July 27.—Michael

Heisch, owner of the old house where Gen.

Grant was born, has three propositions for the purchase of the building, one of which is from a committee of gentlemen living in the general vicinity and another from Mr.

Turner, Mayor Grace's chief clerk, settled that the place of burial shall be Central park. "Your telegram at hand, and I understand the matter to be now definitely settled that Gen. Grant's body is to be interred here. We cannot take any more definite action in regard to the matter of Mrs. Grant until a later date. The faith of the president of the Society of Aldermen and myself

is that we will allow the widow of Gen.

Grant to be interred in Central park.

W. R. GRACE.

Upon the receipt of Mayor Grace's message the committee of gentlemen who had been engaged in the negotiations for the purchase of the building, met again at the home of Mr. Turner, and agreed to proceed with the arrangements.

They are following schedule of arrangements

as follows:—

The body will be taken from Mont

McGregor at 1 p.m. on Tuesday, August 4, arriving at Albany at 4:30 p.m. It will be in state in the capitol until the next day at 1 o'clock, when it will be taken to New York by rail, arriving at 1:30 p.m. August 5. It will be in state in the City hall from that time until Saturday,

August 6, when the public funeral will be held at the Union church in Fairmount Park.

It will be transported by rail to Cincinnati on Sunday evening. The body will be transferred to a car and transported to Edison Park, Cincinnati.

THE OLD GUARD.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The world says:

"The 'Old Guard' or as more familiarly known, 'The 300' delegates who, in 1860, were instrumental in electing Lincoln to the nomination of Gen. Grant to a third term, will probably attend his funeral

as an organization.

An effort will be made to get together

the members of the old guard.

Arthur Edward Pierrepont, Levi P. Morton and John C. Platt. They each received delegations from the who voted for Gen.

Grant first, last and all the time.

John Drexel has decided to go to Albany and Gen. Grant's body will never leave the country until the 1st of September.

The general's face under the influence of the embalming fluid has lost the deep fur-rrows and wrinkles, caused by disease and suffering. The expression is calm and peaceful. The case contains the body of Gen. Grant as he died, in a beautiful wreath of oak leaves, which little Julia Grant, the colnies' daughter, and Dr. Douglas' little brought together in the woods, and began to be buried in the casket on Monday, when near friends of the family will be permitted to view the face.

Mr. Drexel has decided to go to Albany

and Gen. Grant's body will never leave

the country until the 1st of September.

Gen. Grant's body will be interred in the Central Park.

THE EVENING BULLETIN

ROSSER & McCARTHY,
Publishers and Proprietors,
To whom address all communications.

MONDAY, JULY 27, 1885.

The rain, the rain,
The blinding rain,
Has started here;
On the gardens again;
And garden truck
Expecting to die,
Is alive and kicking
And stepping high.

The Big Sandy River is rising slowly at Catlettsburg.

HEAVY rains fell at Pomeroy, Ohio, the latter part of last week.

The Carlisle Rifles expect to go into camp some time during August.

A MOONLIGHT EXCURSION to Manchester is planned for next Wednesday evening.

MISS MOORE, a citizen of this country, has taken the first prize for singing at the Paris Conservatoire.

MORE than seven hundred hogheads of tobacco have been shipped from Paris since the first of May.

DURING a thunder storm last Saturday, General Donovan, residing near Minerva, had eleven fine Cotswoold sheep killed by lightning.

A rise in the river is anticipated from the heavy showers that have fallen throughout the Ohio valley within the last few days.

THE new steamer, T. P. Leathers, was relieved from her dangerous position on Craig's Barlif Friday and proceeded on her trip to Cairo.

JAMES JOHNSON, of Portsmouth, a colored employee of the Scioto Valley can shops, is in custody at that place for an attempted rape on a colored girl thirteen years of age.

DURING the past seven days 192 failures were reported in the United States, and 23 in Canada; total 215, as against a total of 225 last week, and 185 the week previous to the last.

THE cattle of Cynthia, Ky., are still affected with pleuro-pneumonia. An effort is to be made to day, at that place, to raise a fund to pay for the infected cattle that they may be killed.

MR. GEORGE R. GITT, who has been acting as Commonwealth's Attorney during the present term of court is being complimented very highly for the zeal and ability which he has shown in the management of the Commonwealth's interests.

THE Democrats should remember that the vote next Monday may be taken as the basis of Mason County's representation in the District and State Conventions for the next year or so, and for this reason, if for no other, they should see that full vote is polled.

JOHN PUSEY, who has been wanted for some time by the authorities out in Kansas, for forgery and embezzling $5,000 of the State prison funds, was arrested last week, at Cincinnati, by chief of detectives, Roger O'Mara, of Pittsburg. Pusey had squandered the money and was engaged as a day laborer when captured.

A MOONLIGHT FETE will be given by Hant's Reed and Brax Band, this Monday evening, on the lot adjoining the old Amazon Hall. There will be good music for dancing, refreshments and all facilities for enjoyment. The best of order will be maintained and no objectionable characters will be allowed to come on the grounds. Everybody is invited.

In the North Western Christian Advocate, of a recent date, we find the following mention of one of our citizens, whose deficiency of stature made it possible for U. S. Grant to enter West Point and subsequently become one of the most noted of military men. The Evanson (Ill.) Citizen, of April 7th, says:

"Years ago a young man named W. F. Stewart, was appointed to the United States Military Academy. Reporting for examination, he was found to be of an inch in stature. The place this made vacant was filled by the appointment of a boy named Grant, who, when he graduated, was a Methodist (Rutherford's) horse, general of the armies of the United States, and the father of the nation."

Rev. C. B. Hudgins, pastor of the Church of the Nativity, is spending his vacation at Norfolk, Va.

MR. F. P. Haidy, of Cincinnati, who has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. A. Schaffer, returned home to-day.

Rev. John S. Haynes arrived last week from the East, and are stopping at Heiser's European Hotel.

Mr. T. Y. Nesbitt, who has been interviewing the blackberry patches of Bath County, has returned home. He reports the fruit abundant and of good quality.

Mr. James H. Hall, Jr., who has been at New York for the past two weeks, on business connected with the trade of the James H. Hall Plow Company in the West Indies and South America, returned home on Saturday evening.

Leslie Worthington, Esq., who has been away for several days past on a hand-shaking expedition through Lewis County, returned yesterday, and reports every thing lovely in the "State of Lewis" for the next Senator from this district.

Bad, But not Hopeless.

When you have pain in your head, lameness in your side, distress in your back, shortness of breath, and frequent spells of coughing, it seems pretty bad, does it not? Many physicians would give up such a case as beyond restoration. But Mrs. Nettie Hastings of Cambridgeport, Mass., who was thus afflicted, took Brown's Iron Bitters and gratefully writes that the Prince of Tonics completely restored her to health. It will restore you, too.

Why a Girl Wouldn't Drink Milk.

Seeing a place where fresh milk is sold to thirsty people in this hot weather, reminds "Clara Belle" of this story, involving two girls in a horseback party:

"Drink something with me," said she.

"All right, thank you," I responded.

"I will take a milk punch mix."

"A milk punch! Oh! you churn?" the girl cried derisively.

"Do you like me to a churn?" I retorted.

"Pray look at the shade of my new tailor-made habit, and instantly retract that remark."

"What I mean," she said, "is that if you swallow a pint of milk and then let that trotter bounce you for half an hour there'll be a pound of butter in your little stomach, and I'm betting on it."

Acquired.

The trial of Oscar Bennett, colored, charged with the murder of Matte Small, near Louisville, last February, ended last Saturday afternoon, the jury rendering a verdict of not guilty. The killing, as before stated in this paper, occurred at a dance during a sort of free-for-all. Bennett was one of the participants and did some shooting, but there were several other fellows present who also made use of their pistols in the scrimmage. From a conversation with some of the jurymen after their discharge from the case, it was learned that they did not regard the proof conclusive enough that Bennett was the one who fired the fatal shot. Such is the opinion of nearly all who heard the evidence in the case.

Death of William E. Snoot.

WILLIAM E. Snoot, a prominent farmer residing near Tuckahoe P. O., this county, and a brother of Mrs. Dr. A. H. Wall, of this city, died at his home early yesterday morning. The news of his death was rather in the nature of a surprise to many of his friends in this city and vicinity, but not to his relatives and immediate acquaintances, who had been apprised of his serious condition for some time. He was a brother of the late Henry Snoot, deceased, and was seventy-three years of age at the time of his death. He died from disease of the heart, with which complaint he had been troubled for several years. His funeral took place this morning at ten o'clock, at the Beasley Creek Church, and his remains will be interred at the Mayaville cemetery this afternoon.

PERSONALS.

MR. F. A. Mitchell is in town to-day on business.

Rev. Sam. Jones leaves Plattsburgh this evening for High Bridge.

Miss Anna Sloan, of Cincinnati, is the guest of Mrs. Malissa Rosser.

Mrs. Maury, of Louisville, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Dr. J. A. Mitchell.

Miss Emma Helm and Anna Dawson are visiting friends at California, O.

Mr. J. Ballenger returned home this morning, after an absence of several days.

Miss Lida Hicks has returned from a pleasant visit to friends in Southern Kentucky.

Miss Nannie Calvert, of Millwood, is visiting Mrs. R. A. Carr, of Limestone street.

The friends of Mr. Garrett Donovan, living near Minerva, will regret to hear of his serious illness.

Rev. C. B. Hudgins, pastor of the Church of the Nativity, is spending his vacation at Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. F. P. Haidy, of Cincinnati, who has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. A. Schaffer, returned home to-day.

Rev. John S. Haynes arrived last week from the East, and are staying at Heiser's European Hotel.

Mr. T. Y. Nesbitt, who has been interviewing the blackberry patches of Bath County, has returned home. He reports the fruit abundant and of good quality.

Mr. James H. Hall, Jr., who has been at New York for the past two weeks, on business connected with the trade of the James H. Hall Plow Company in the West Indies and South America, returned home on Saturday evening.

Leslie Worthington, Esq., who has been away for several days past on a hand-shaking expedition through Lewis County, returned yesterday, and reports every thing lovely in the "State of Lewis" for the next Senator from this district.

COUNTY POINTS.

Mayfield.

A revival is going on here among the colored Baptists.

Mrs. Nettie Barry is visiting the family of Miss Anna Small, near Helena Station.

The mercury since the rains has got down from one hundred to seventy-five. We can do without more rain.

Mrs. Flora Tucker, a charming and attractive young lady of Paris, is visiting Mrs. J. A. H. Wall.

Mrs. Lizzie Hutsell, of Millersburg, another one of Bourbon's charmers, is visiting Miss Anna Small.

We had fine rains on Friday night and on Thursday, which changed the appearance of the growing crops very much.

Germansburg.

The Sunday school at Germansburg, Mason County, met at this place on the 24th, according to announcement. We suppose the meeting was held in the schoolroom, for the promotion of Christian fellowship and good will among all the Sunday schools in the neighborhood.

The meetings of these schools are a fair sample of their meeting at the same time.

The good intentions of those who originated the scheme are to be detected.

We are a little disappointed in reading the report of the trial of Dr. W. H. Johnson, member of the M. E. Church, South, on it, but after witnessing the proceedings, we were glad that such was the result.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS.

I stood in the store the other day when a boy came in and applied for a situation.

"Can you write a good hand?" was asked.

"Yes."

"Good at figures?"

"Yes."

"That will do—I don't want you," said the merchant.

"But," I said when the boy had gone, "I think that had to be an honest, industrious boy. Why don't you give him a chance?"

"Because he hasn't learned to say 'Yes, sir,' and 'No, sir.' If he answers me as he did when applying for a situation, I will not be satisfied customers after being here a month."

What could I say to that? He had fallen into a habit, young as he was, which turned him away from the first situation he had ever applied for.

Missed His Deer.

[Valdosta (Ga.) Times.]

I have heard a good story of an old settler in this region who has never killed a deer but was fortunate enough to trap one in his garden fence. Now, he said,

"I'll have to say that I killed my deer."

He had to repeat the story about the animal's horn and fastened it to a tree.

Finally, finding his blue-birds often alighted on the horn, he pulled it off and the gun, the dust flew from the rope, and the deer bounded off, free and unfeathered to enjoy the pleasures of his haunts in the green wood. The bullet had cut the rope in twain.

Sing Me the Old Song.

[St. Paul Globe.]

I held my hand in mine and clasped And told my mate of love lost in language sweet and warm;

And when I sang of want of birth, she raised her dimpled chin And whispered to me again,

"Sing me the old song."

MYSTERIOUS EPISODE WHICH THE POLICE CANNOT SOLVE.

The Passengers on a Fulton Ferry-Boat Started by Seeing a Man Leap From the Big Structure Into the Water. The Police Did Not See Him.

New York, July 27.—The ferry-boat Union left the foot of Fulton street at 9:48 o'clock. When she had swung out into the stream a shout was heard, followed by a splash in the water. Some one shouted that a man had jumped from the bridge. The passengers made a rush for the stern of the boat and looked to see the man rise to the surface. Several minutes passed, but nothing appeared. The boat put back and was made ready to take the slip. The passengers red ashore and ran down the pier to the bridge tower, where the Erie annex boat lay. They remained there a long time gazing at the water, but nothing resembling a human being was appeared.

At the bridge police station, nothing was known of the alleged suicide. Edmund Hayes, who was stationed on the bridge at the time, denied emphatically that any such thing had occurred, and said if it had he would certainly have heard of it. He added:

"Patrolmen were on the bridge at the time, standing within forty feet of the Brooklyn tower, and at the time were looking down at an excursion that was just passing Jewish's wharf. All of a sudden they heard a cry and a moment later heard a splash near the ferry-boat Union."

We both turned our eyes in that direction and saw by the ripples where something had disappeared beneath the surface of the water. We watched for it to rise again, but it did not. It lay on the surface. That is all I know about it. I am sure no one could have jumped from the bridge without my knowledge."

For a moment Keaney considered the谣言者's story and said that if any man had fallen into the water at that spot the undercurrents would have carried the victim a great distance before it came to the pier.

Mrs. Ladday, who is employed on the ferryboat, said:

"I was standing on the stern of the boat when a boy cried out: 'There's a man going to jump from the bridge.' I told him not to be afraid, and as I did so, saw a man dressed in white. He was either in a bathing suit or in his undershirt. He had already jumped and was half way down when I saw him. Before I could scream he had disappeared. I then ran down the pier and I then screamed, and the passengers came running back to where I stood. I looked for a long time but did not see him picked up, although several tugboats around were looking for the body."

The baggage master of the Erie Annex said that he was on the dock busily handling freight when an excited crowd of passengers rushed down the pier and exclaimed that a man had jumped from the bridge. The men said positively that they had seen him jump. A few moments later a tug boat was in the river near the dock and the captain told him with:

"Did you see that man jump from the bridge?"

He replied that he had not.

"Well, we did," shouted the deck hands on the tug.

Some other persons positively assert that they saw the man jump. There are several theories advanced as to whether it was a man who jumped from the bridge or a dummy thrown from a passing vehicle by some practical joker. As yet no trace of the supposed jumper's body has been found.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Mr. Vitas Refutes a Traveling Barber—Appointments—Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Postmaster General Vilas said that there was no truth in the report that he had sent a circular to all circular fur distributor and congressmen relative to the removal of postmasters in different parts of the country. The president and himself were in earnest about carrying out the policy laid down in the letter of July 18, 1884, relative to the tenure of office, and this course would be carried out strictly.

In the circular which had been so much talked of he had no intention of removing any postmaster, but several Ohio congressmen were communicated with so that action might be taken on certain cases within a specific time. That was all there was to it, and no other circulars would be sent out because they were deemed unnecessary.

Appointments.

DENVER, Colo., July 27.—Mrs. Proteus, wife of W. Proteus, a wealthy Englishman residing in Denver, was so badly injured in a runaway accident here that she died. Mr. Proteus was living here and his wife, who is the mother and daughter of his husband, who, as an agreement to the marriage, placed a large sum of money to her credit in a bank. Although well-meaning persons have offered their services, she has been keeping the melancholy life which her now disabled her to do.
